(Everyone) Everyone probably watches movies, listens to music, reads books and, of course, who sits in internet and absorbs every ounce of the information it gives have their own favorite celebrity. In the music industry I have numerous artists I adore. But one singer hits differently with her melodic voice, ethereal music and melancholic yet beautiful meaning behind her songs. Her name is Mitsuki Miyawaki, but world knows her as "Mitski".

Mitski is a Japanese-American indie-pop singer. She is well-known for her catchy music and most importantly for her poetic lyrics expressing her struggling with her love life, growing up and her insecurities being interracial kid in American world. She says one of her interviews that she doesn't fit neither in this groups. With statement a lot of people like her, people of color, that they are not alone with their issues. She's helped many racial mixed teenagers to overcome their insecurities in their (though) tough periods.

In the future I aspire to be her. As optimistic, as sweet as her. To be able to express my feelings and my thoughts with art. Show how (pop) humans emotions is beautiful by their nature. I hope everyone who reads my article listens to Mitski and will find something new to learn about herself.

I have a deep fondness for sushi, a culinary delight that encompasses a perfect blend of flavors and textures. The vibrant colors and exquisite presentation make it a feast for the eyes, while the diverse combinations of fish, rice, and vegetables create a symphony of tastes. While sushi might be considered a healthy choice due to its use of fresh ingredients, it's essential to be mindful of certain factors. Raw fish contributes valuable omega-3 fatty acids, but excessive consumption can pose risks. The ease of preparation varies; simple rolls can be made at home, but mastering the art of sushi requires skill. The key ingredients include sushi rice, seaweed, fresh fish, and vegetables. Sushi's allure lies not only in its taste but also in the cultural experience it offers, making it a timeless favorite.

My favorite sport is volleyball. I play it my spare time and in physical education class. I most often play with my friend Ayara. I like to feel the game. Volleyball is an entertaining sport. You need to watch the ball and movement of the hand. This game requires dexterity. The main goal is to prevent the ball from touching. This sport is played by a lot of teenagers and it is very popular with young people. There are different volleyball championships in the world. Skillful players always win. You need to have a strong hand to score goals. And in this game tactics - you need to look into the future every step is important. This game is very interesting if you play it deeper.
